Aug 29, 2017 The emulator uses only ~250Mb of memory even though it has the full spectrum ROM. Modes, fonts, speed, joystick, graphics, sound, power save and KIT extensions are configurable. Programming languages: 8BIT BASIC, GORIP (GORI (sounds like a certain kind of lollypop) compatible), OZBASIC and Z 80. Has C64 graphics, but is slow and buggy. Z80 and some NES/Famicom/NES-like games. Running on Windows. Loading A ROM Requires A ROM File TZX File Format At The Directory Selected For Loading The Rom File. "TZX" as Impressions on Your Computer Then Zero After Eight Letters. Windows, Mac OS, Linux, Mobile, Chrome OS, Windows Phone or even Android! Display Up To 240 x 160 Pixel. Emulator also supports the TZX file format. Spectaculator 8 Emulates the entire spectrum, including the 48K model, 16K model and 128 model (scorpion), as well as many homebrew cartridges. In spite of all the options available, not to mention custom patching, I have to put it into a category where no emulator I know of does. It works, and it works well.
