to worry about updating. if youre coming from a different app, office 2016 will still feel familiar to you if youre coming from windows 10 mobile, android, ios, or macos. the most notable change is probably the absence of the office online web app, which is also the newest version of office online. its a stripped-down web interface that gets rid of the chat window and makes it a little more difficult to work on things like spreadsheets. however, you can still use office online to view documents, create new files, and check email. its the same app youve used for the last three years, with a few cosmetic changes and a new dark theme that looks great on windows 10. office 2016 is a solid update, but its also more of a refresh than anything else. if youre already working in office and you like the way it looks and works, you wont need any of the new features.
