The photo quality is a little better with some of the other cameras. This app is not so bad, I just wish it would work as advertised. When I click on the IP address, I am always given the same city as the IP address; this of course is good for tracking IPs but not necessarily for looking up the city the IP belongs to, unless the IP is from a local area. This is a problem when I want to have a Google map, but all the maps I'm finding are satellite maps, not real maps. For example, when I click on the IP address of I am given the state of South Carolina, but I would like to find out what city is hosting that IP.
